

English Language Research Seminars

2014-15: Semester Two ancinitard — antitacci 16V13 🗲

Week 1	The Fourth M. L. Samuels Lecture in English Language
15 Jan	Professor Bettelou Los, Chair of English Language, University of Edinburgh, will
15 Jan	be speaking on information structure in the history of English   5.15pm, Yudowitz Lecture Theatre, Wolfson Medical Building **
	 Followed by a sparkling wine reception **
	Followed by a Sparkling wille reception
Week 2	Dr Jukka Tyrkkö (University of Helsinki) Exploring Multilingual Practices in Late
	Modern English: A Corpus Linguistic Approach
22 Jan
Week 4	Professor Jane Stuart-Smith (University of Glasgow)
	'Bring hither the fatted coo': A real-time study of sound change in Glaswegian
5 Feb	across the 20 th century
Week 7	Dr Philip Durkin (Deputy Chief Editor, Oxford English Dictionary)
26 Feb	Lexical Borrowing and Basic Vocabulary: How well can we quantify the impact of loanwords on the basic vocabulary of English? Can we identify any common patterns of causation?
M1-0	De les des Oceans de De Oceanie Heles e Ellien (Heisensite et Oleanes)
Week 8 5 March	Dr Jennifer Smith and Dr Sophie Holmes-Elliott (University of Glasgow)  One Speaker, Two Dialects: Bidilectalism in a Scottish Community
3 Maich	One Speaker, Two Dialects. Bionectansin in a Scottish Community
Week 9	Jana Dambrogio (Thomas F. Peterson (1957) Conservator, MIT) and Dr Daniel Starza
	Smith (Lincoln College, Oxford)
	Unlocking the Secrets of Letterlocking
	 There will be a hands-on workshop before the research seminar, 12-2pm, for which places must be booked in advance alison.wiggins@glasgow.ac.uk **
	Ingenious Impressions: Glasgow Incunabula Project Launch
19 March
	 Introductory talk on this major cataloguing project and exhibition, followed by a drop in display of incunabula and chance to discuss research opportunities informally **
	4.15pm, Henry Heaney Room, Special Collections, Floor 12 Glasgow University Library, followed by wine reception **
Week 11	Professor Ralph Hanna (University of Oxford) and Dr Sarah Wood (University of Warwick)

26 March Warwick)

The 'Excised Pardon' of Piers Plowman C and A Scribe Responds to Langland's C

** Joint event with Medieval and Renaissance Studies at Glasgow **

All welcome! Seminars are Thursdays at 4.15 pm Room 101, 12 University Gardens, unless indicated otherwise. @EnglishLangGU #EnglishLangGU