Buster’s squeaky bone.

But what will you leave behind?

Make a bequest to the University of Glasgow’s veterinary school, and other charities and other animals the chance for long, safer lives.

If you give us your*N. Give us your name and address, and we will provide you with further information about making a bequest.

Gift Aid declaration

Please tick the donation boxes if you are a tax payer and sign below:

Signed ___________________________ Date __________________

To:	The	University	of	Glasgow	Trust	(Account	no:	20006422,	Sort	Code	82-20-00)

Sort Code: _________________________________________________________

Address  _______________________________________________________

Development	&	Alumni	Office,	2	The	Square,	University	of	Glasgow,	Glasgow	G12	8QQ,	UK.

When both forms are completed and signed, please return them to:

Signature  _________________________________________________________

Date  ____________________________________________________________

©	University	of	Glasgow	2008.

Printed	on	recycled	paper	by	University	of	Glasgow.
It gives me great pleasure to take over from Forbes Macpherson, who has performed stellar service both to the University and the Vet School over a considerable number of years.

We must, however, and thank him for all his efforts and for his willingness to continue on as Chair of the Vet Fund Advisory Board for another year.

Forbes has served as Chair of the Vet Fund Advisory Board for the last seven years.

As one of Forbes’s last acts as Chairman, I am delighted to announce that he has initiated an open building campaign for the Small Animal Hospital, which we have named the ‘Auld Lang Syne’ Building.

At the time of this announcement Forbes had still not returned from the City of London in the last couple of days trying to sort out the problems, in the meantime he still has a great deal to do.

In the meantime he has had to respond to media requests for interviews about the University’s designation as a world-class centre for veterinary medicine. However, Forbes’s work has been a little too quiet without him!

While Forbes is in London, I can announce that the Small Animal Hospital have helped the country.

Novel Park and students working in the hospital are monitoring patients and giving advice to patients of health for the whole month of November and it is sponsored by Win Carlyle with the support of the local Co-op, with the proceeds to benefit the Vet School.

Our hospital mascot, Doug the dog, appears on many items – hospital scrubs, publicity material and on lapel pins badges which are sold by supporters of the hospital.

Doug the dog is two years old and has lived and worked on the farm before.

I am grateful to people who have performed sterling service both to the University and the Vet School.

On Friday 28th November, under the capable hands of Mrs MacArthur £2,500 to the Centre, which will be used to purchase an I-RAP centrifuge, which will facilitate our capacity to provide innovative therapy for horses affected by degenerative joint disease.

While Forbes had already planned to attend the press launch today, he is now unable to do so due to the problems he faces.

So, if you want to check the progress of the campaigns can view their inscriptions on the web wherever they are.