1. Discipline+:

Discipline+ represents a vision and framework for the School of Humanities to meet the strategic visions of the School, the College and the University. It is essentially a multicultural model which seeks the preservation of subject area identities within a unified School which allows for mutual respect and multiple identities. Discipline+ goes beyond mere toleration of differences and positively embraces differences, enabling us to pool resources efficiently to learn and adopt best practice from one another where possible and where desirable. While accommodating 'cultural' differences, it seeks to move away from isolationism and non-integrated parallel subject areas to build a more unified School. Discipline+ seeks assimilation only of good practice which strengthens and supports the Schools' disciplines. Discipline+ begins at School level but is not intended to be restricted to the School of Humanities itself and should also include other Schools, Colleges, Universities and relevant stakeholders.

The integration and unification of the School can be achieved by

- Coming Together &
- Exchanging Knowledge, Expertise and Experience
2. Possible areas for increased collaboration and integration

Administration: Processes relating to
- General administrative procedures
- Teaching & learning
- Marketing of programmes & courses
- UG & PG recruitment & induction
- Quality assurance, including AMR (Annual Monitoring Report), PSR (Periodic Subject Review), SSLC (Staff-Student Liaison Committee)
- Research applications

Teaching
- Cross-teaching at UG (e.g. Level 3) and PG levels
- Cross-supervision of dissertations at UG and PGT
- Generic training of UG and PG students (e.g. Reading groups, GTA training)
- Cross-POOT (Peer Observation of Teaching)

Research
- Cross-supervision of PGR
- PGR review panels
- Research applications: peer support
- Joint research projects
- School research seminars
- REF support (environment & impact)
- Humanities 2014

Staff
- Mentoring & career development
- Opportunities for cross-Subject appointments

RÔM (13 Feb 2013)