

Certificate of Higher Education in Literary Studies

The aim of this certificate is to introduce students to advanced study of literature at university level, with particular emphasis on the historical and cultural contexts that inform various literary styles.

All Certificates of Higher Education are made up of 120 CertHE credits. For this certificate at least 60 of these credits must come from the courses listed below. The remaining credits you need to reach 120 credits may come from any other CertHE course in any subject.

The 2014-15 courses that provide credits towards this Certificate are listed below. Any courses in grey count towards this certificate but will not be available this year. Click on the course titles below for detailed course information including course aims, requirements and assessment details.

Classical Civilisation

Code	Course title	Credits
	Classical Greek civilisation 1A	20 credits at level 1
	Classical Greek civilisation 1B	20 credits at level 1

Creative Writing

Code	Course title	Credits
17667	Creative writing: fiction (Wednesdays)ADED1021	40 credits at level 1
17666	Creative writing: fiction (Saturdays)ADED1021	40 credits at level 1
17595	Creative writing: the novel ADED1023	20 credits at level 1
17640	Creative writing: the short story ADED1024	20 credits at level 1
17504	Intermediate techniques in writing fiction ADED2005E	40 credits at level 2
	Intermediate fiction writing ADED2016	40 credits at level 2
	Creative writing: Travel writing ADED1238	20 credits at level 1
	Creative writing: writing for children ADED1239E	20 credits at level 1
	Creative writing: writing poetry ADED1237	20 credits at level 1
	Creative writing: scriptwriting ADED1022E	20 credits at level 1

Egyptology & Ancient Near East

Code	Course title	Credits
17248	Literature of the ancient Near East	10 credits at level 1

Literature

Code	Course title	Credits
16584	The Later Modern Novel	20 credits at level 1
	Literature in Scotland in late 20th century	20 credits at level 1
	Modern drama	40 credits at level 1
	Shakespeare's drama	40 credits at level 2
	Modern poetry	40 credits at level 1
	The rise of the novel	40 credits at level 2
	The early modern novel	20 credits at level 1
	The modern novel	40 credits at level 1

To gain the Certificate in Literary Studies, you must take at least 60 credits from the courses named above; the remaining credits you need to reach 120 credits may come from any other CertHE course in any subject.

To view all of the other Certificate of Higher Education courses available in 2014-15, please see the CertHE course brochure.

[\[Click here to send us an email telling us you're interested in a course that's not currently running; if we get enough interest we would be happy to run it next year.\]](#)