Ameer Ibrahim is the President of Glasgow University Students’ Representative Council - he previously held the role SRC Vice President (Student Activities) during 2015-16. As President of the SRC, Ameer serves at the highest levels of student representation across the University. The SRC President sits on a broad range of University Committees to put forward the views of students. The President has overall responsibility for the running of the SRC, its direction, and is also a figurehead for the organisation ensuring that the student voice is recognised at the local and national level.

Ameer is from Glasgow, and outside of his role within the SRC, is an Accounting and Finance student at the University.
