The 2016/2017 Film Series is organised in partnership between GRAMNet and BEMIS Scotland. This year we bring you documentary and feature films from Scotland and around the world making up a programme that illustrates the diversity and commonalities of those who endure exile and persecution.

The films we have selected, and for which we have received generous support often from the makers and distributors themselves, depict stories of people who must manage extreme risk in order to survive and flourish. Using the compelling medium of film, the series explores difficult questions of what it means to be human and how powerful structures place human beings in complex scenarios which force people into exceptional circumstances. These are stories of loss, but are also stories and acts of resistance, solidarity and empowerment, revealing survival strategies which bind people together forming communities of hope against adversity.

The films in our series are groundbreaking in terms of content, form and production methods: protagonists themselves become filmmakers by documenting their own epic journeys of exile and refuge; historical and personal video footage gives an intimate portrayal of life in a refugee camp; cameras hidden in bags and clothes get inside detention camps to expose the horrors of detention; and film crews spend months returning to toxic exclusion zones to capture the defiance of the human spirit. Together these films create a picture of lives in motion, refusing to be denied their right to exist.

Screenings are accompanied by forums and Q&A for everyone to share their views and thoughts in a friendly and supportive atmosphere. The audience is warmly invited to congregate in the Centre for Contemporary Arts (CCA) Cafe following each screening to continue our informal discussions.

A Portrait of James Connolly

DOCUMENTARY: IRELAND (1966)
WRITER: OWEN DUDLEY EDWARDS
PRODUCER: AINDRIAS Ó GALLCHÓBHAIR
RUNNING TIME: 50 MINS
ENGLISH

A rare opportunity to see the first screening in Glasgow of the documentary portrait of Irish Easter Rising, Scottish born leader James Connolly in the award-winning RTÉ series ‘On Behalf of the Provisional Government’. The digitally-remastered film features the reminiscences of close colleagues and family of James Connolly, including his Edinburgh-born daughter, Nora, and his niece, Mary, daughter of his Edinburgh-based fellow socialist activist, elder brother, John.

Beats of the Antonov

DOCUMENTARY: SUDAN (2015)
DIRECTOR: HAJOOJ KUKA
RUNNING TIME: 57 MINS
ARABIC WITH ENGLISH SUBTITLES

Sudan has been in an almost constant state of civil war since it achieved independence in 1956, and it split into a pair of sovereign states in 2011. Today, on the border between the two, Russian-made Antonov planes indiscriminately drop bombs on settlements in the Nuba Mountains below. Yet, incredibly, the people of the Blue Nile respond to adversity with music, singing and dancing to celebrate their survival. Beats of the Antonov explores how music binds a community together, offering hope and a common identity for refugees engaged in a fierce battle to protect cultural traditions and heritage from those trying to obliterate them.

Son of Saul

DRAMA: HUNGARY (2015)
DIRECTOR: LÁSZLÓ NEMES
RUNNING TIME: 107 MINS
CERTIFICATE: 15
GERMAN, HUNGARIAN, POLISH, YIDDISH WITH ENGLISH SUBTITLES

Winner of the Best Foreign Language Film Oscar and Golden Globe, Son of Saul is Hungarian director László Nemes’ blistering debut feature, a courageous and unflinching remaginning of the Holocaust drama. Saul Ausländer is a member of the Sonderkommando, the Jewish prisoners forced to assist in the machinery of the Nazi concentration camps. While at work, he discovers the body of a boy he recognises as his son. As the Sonderkommando plan a rebellion, Saul vows to carry out an impossible task: to save the child’s body from the flames and to find a rabbi to recite the mourner’s Kaddish and offer the boy a proper burial. Anchored by a riveting and intensely brave performance from newcomer Géza Röhrig, Son of Saul is a remarkable exploration of one of humanity’s darkest moments. Visceral, gripping and immensely powerful, it is one of the boldest and most remarkable debuts in recent memory – and is already being heralded as a masterpiece of world cinema.
Chasing Asylum

DOCUMENTARY: AUSTRALIA (2016)
DIRECTOR: EVA ORNER
RUNNING TIME: 96 MINS
ENGLISH, DARI, PERSIAN, ARABIC WITH ENGLISH SUBTITLES

Chasing Asylum exposes the real impact of Australia’s offshore detention policies and explores how ‘The Lucky Country’ became a country where leaders choose detention over compassion and governments deprive the desperate of their basic human rights.

The film features never before seen footage from inside Australia’s offshore detention camps, revealing the personal impact of sending those in search of a safe home to languish in limbo.

Chasing Asylum explores the mental, physical and fiscal consequences of Australia’s decision to lock away families in unsanitary conditions hidden from media scrutiny, destroying their lives under the pretext of saving them.

The Babushkas of Chernobyl

DOCUMENTARY: UKRAINE (2015)
DIRECTOR: HOLLY MORRIS AND ANNE BOGART
RUNNING TIME: 70 MINS
UKRAINIAN AND RUSSIAN WITH ENGLISH SUBTITLES

In the radioactive Dead Zone surrounding Chernobyl’s Reactor No. 4, a defiant community of women scratches out an existence on some of the most toxic land on Earth. They share this hauntingly beautiful but lethal landscape with an assortment of visitors – scientists, soldiers, and even ‘stalkers’ – young thrill-seekers who sneak in to pursue post-apocalyptic video game-inspired fantasies. Why the women chose to return after the disaster – defying the authorities and endangering their health – is a remarkable tale about the pull of home, the healing power of shaping one’s destiny, and the subjective nature of risk.

DOCUMENTARY: SCOTLAND (2015)
DIRECTOR: ROXANA VILK
RUNNING TIME: 10 MINS
ARABIC AND ENGLISH WITH ENGLISH SUBTITLES

Ghazi Hussein is an award winning Palestinian poet and writer living in Scotland. Born in exile in Syria he was first imprisoned at the age of 14, he was never charged but was ‘guilty of carrying thoughts’. Repeatedly imprisoned and tortured over the next 20 years he says that writing poetry saved his sanity. Ghazi eventually arrived in Scotland in 2000. After a three year legal battle, the legal evidence of the torture he had endured led him to being granted political asylum in Scotland. This short film, directed by award winning British/Iranian filmmaker Roxana Vilk explores his poetry as the narrative thread to unravel the complex emotional journey he has traveled through and how he came to eventually call Edinburgh home.

A World Not Ours

DOCUMENTARY: PALESTINE (2012)
DIRECTOR: MAHDI FLEIFEL
RUNNING TIME: 93 MINS
ARABIC AND ENGLISH WITH ENGLISH SUBTITLES

A World Not Ours is an intimate, humorous, portrait of three generations of exile in the refugee camp of Ein el-Helweh, in southern Lebanon. Based on a wealth of personal recordings, family archives, and historical footage, the film is a sensitive, and illuminating study of belonging, friendship, and family.

Filmed over more than 20 years by multiple generations of the same family, A World Not Ours is more than just a family portrait; it is an attempt to record what is being forgotten, and mark what should not be erased from collective memory.

DOCUMENTARY, FRANCE, (2016)
DIRECTOR: ANNE POIRET
RUNNING TIME: 52 MINS
ENGLISH, FRENCH, ARAB, KIRUNDI,
KISWAHILI WITH ENGLISH SUBTITLES

This film focuses on the way the UNHCR manages camps that shelter more than 16 million refugees all around the world, creating a virtual country as large as the Netherlands.

How does the UNHCR run these camps and train its representatives? How can they deal with the urgent needs of thousands of new refugees that arrive each day? How has this emergency response turned into a durable situation with an average stay of over fifteen years? What are the long-term perspectives for this kind of response to humanitarian urgency?

Shot all around the world – Kenya, Tanzania, Jordan, the border of Greece/Macedonia – and in the UNHCR offices.

About Us

GRAMNET
A NEW APPROACH TO MIGRATION
GRAMNet brings together researchers and practitioners, NGOs (non governmental organisations) and policy makers concerned with migration issues in Scotland and beyond. The research initiative, currently involving Universities from all over the world, focuses on migrants, asylum seekers and refugees. The network provides a forum through which policy makers and academics can work together to connect communities through knowledge exchange, research and development.
The city of Glasgow is host to the largest population of refugees and asylum seekers under the UK Government’s dispersal policy and also has a history of attracting large communities of migrants. GRAMNet aims to build a context for the study of migrant communities based on the city’s unique position.
