What if I can’t find the exam paper I’m looking for?

Is the paper more than 4 years old? Only the previous 4 years are available online.

Speak to a member of Library staff. We can help you search.

We receive exam papers from schools and colleges and make them available online. We may not have received the paper yet – let us know if you think this is the case.

UofG exam papers are only available to staff and students of the University.
Printed past exam papers

Print copies of previous exam papers, ranging from the late 19th century to the present day, have been bound by degree and are available, for consultation only, at the University's Archive Services, in Thurso Street.

Material from this collection may be consulted upon arrangement with the Duty Archivist. Appointments to view the exam papers are necessary.

Archive Services is open to readers from Monday - Friday, 09:30 - 17:00.
