Visiting

- The Hill House: One of the most significant buildings designed by Mackintosh, it is now owned by the Scottish National Trust for Places of Historic Interest or Natural Beauty.
- Mackintosh at the Willow: The Willow Tea Rooms, designed by Mackintosh and Miss Cranston, are now managed by the National Trust for Scotland.
- Queen’s Cross Church: The only church in the world designed by Mackintosh, where space and light are used to dramatic effect. Interior highlights include the gesso and glass panels of Margaret Macdonald.
- The Glasgow School of Art: This renowned visitor attraction showcases the stunning interiors and collection designed by Mackintosh and Margaret Macdonald Mackintosh in the ‘Glasgow style’. The Mackintosh and Glasgow Style gallery is divided into six stories. It is the largest display in the city of the Glasgow Style’s wide range of purposes for the building.
- The Willow Tea Rooms: Located in the heart of the city, the Willow Tea Rooms are an iconic Glasgow landmark.
- House for an Art Lover: Located in Bellahouston Park, it is considered to be a masterpiece of Mackintosh’s work.
- V&A Dundee: The Scottish Design Galleries at V&A Dundee allow visitors to become fully immersed in the design world of Mackintosh.
- Kelvingrove Art Gallery & Museum: Argyle Street, Glasgow, G3 8AG
