Community & Inclusion Workshop

Students believe sense of community is very important. However, when asked if they felt the College had a strong sense of community, students had mixed opinions.

Most events take place on main campus, causing inconvenience to students studying at other campuses or living in far off accommodations.

Suggestions for improvement include monthly meet-ups, social and academic events,

conversation cafes and

collabs with student societies.

Main challenges for students outside main campus include transport and scheduling/time of events.

Finally, majority students agreed that there is a lack of common study spaces. Most used spaces by the students are the library, reading room, and JMS, which are often fully occupied during exam season.
