Research Day - Tuesday, 26 February 2013
9.00am - 4.00pm, Hilton Glasgow Grosvenor Hotel
Programme

9.00-9.15am  Coffee/tea

9.15-9.30am  Welcome and introduction  Professor Dame Sally Macintyre

9.30-10.30am  Links I have, links I’d like and how can we collaborate?  Chris/Jen (Facilitators)

10.30-10.50am  The potential for research and new technologies to enhance health and wellbeing  Professor Frances Mair, General Practice and Primary Care

10.50-11.10am  Can candidacy help us understand perception and experiences of health?  Dr Sara Macdonald, General Practice and Primary Care

11.10-11.30am  Reducing health inequalities: exploring the potential of social groups and mobile technologies to deliver sustained positive lifestyle change  Dr Cindy Gray, Social Scientists working in Health and Wellbeing

11.30-12.15pm  Ideas for proposals for next year’s MRC studentships, and new supervisors  Chris/Jen (Facilitators)

12.15-1.00pm  Lunch (refreshments provided throughout afternoon)

1.00-1.20pm  How does our environment affect our health, and how do we know?  Professor Rich Mitchell, Public Health

1.20-1.40pm  What research on inequalities in health might actually make a difference?  Professor Graham Watt, General Practice and Primary Care

1.40-2.00pm  Using longitudinal studies, disease registries and NHS and other administrative data to study life course determinants of health, trends in health and its determinants, and the outcomes of policy or environmental changes or clinical trials  Professor Ian Ford, Robertson Centre for Biostatistics

2.00-3.00pm  How do we increase recruitment of PGR and PGT (home and overseas)  Chris/Jen (Facilitators)

3.00-3.45pm  Presentation of 3 impact case studies  Professors Jill Pell, Stewart Mercer, Chris Williams

3.45-4.00pm  Round up and next steps  Chris/Jen Facilitators