Course Selection Guide

2023 - 24

HOW TO SELECT COURSES AT THE UNIVERSITY OF GLASGOW

Planning for the next academic session (2023/24) is ongoing. Course list information for each subject will be added here in due course.

In the meantime, please refer to the course catalogue for the current academic session (2022/23) for information when entering course choices on your application.

Please pay close attention to courses which state that they only run in alternate years, as these will likely not run in the next academic session.

Please refer to this guide, our webpages and the current course catalogue to see if a course is available to visiting students.

What level should I pick?

- The University of Glasgow offers a four-year undergraduate degree programme: Level 1 (1xxx) = first year, Level 2 (2xxx) = second year, and so on
- You can normally request courses from levels 1 – 4 in the subject you have a major in; you would be restricted to levels 1 or 2 in subject areas in which you do not have prior experience
- Level 5 (5xxx) courses are post-graduate courses and are not available to visiting students

How many credits do I have to take?

- 60 Glasgow credits for 1 semester or
- 120 Glasgow credits for a full year – ideally this would be split equally across both semesters.

All students are required to take a full course load. Work that you are doing for your home university while studying at Glasgow does not count towards your Glasgow credit load.

What is the process of getting on my chosen courses?

Your course choices will be reviewed by an academic subject coordinator together with your transcript to ensure you have the correct pre-requisites/background knowledge to take the classes you have requested.

You do not need to pay attention to pre-requisites listed in the Course Catalogue, those apply to degree-seeking students only.

Pre-Arrival enrolment will be based on application course approval by the academic subject coordinator. You will receive feedback on your course choices before the start of your exchange.

REMEMBER!

The University of Glasgow cannot guarantee courses in advance for visiting students.

Not all of our courses run every year and some run in alternate semesters. Some courses might be oversubscribed at the point of enrolment, or there may be timetable clashes. Your class enrolment will be finalised when you arrive in Glasgow. You should be prepared to identify alternatives and confirm with your home university that they can approve these.

COLLEGE OF ARTS

Archaeology (ARCH)

- No prerequisites for entry into Level 1 courses
- Prerequisite knowledge required for levels 2, 3 and 4

Celtic Studies & Scottish Gaelic (CELTCIV/GAELIC)

- Level 1 and 2 Celtic Civilisation modules are open to all and require no previous background
- No previous knowledge required for Gaelic 1 (Beginners)
- Some previous experience required for Gaelic 1 (Intermediate) & Gaelic 2 (Intermediate)
- Students are required to be fluent for Gaelic 1 (Advanced) & Gaelic 2 (Advanced)
- Level 1 and 2 Gaelic language courses are not available in Semester 2, therefore semester 1 or full year study durations are recommended.
- Prerequisite knowledge required for levels 3 and 4

Classics, Latin & Greek (CLASSIC/LATIN/GREEK)

- There are language pre-requisites for all LATIN and GREEK options at all levels except LATIN1A and GREEK1A (beginners) options
- If you have previous knowledge of the language, you will be given a diagnostic test to determine which level is suitable
- Level 1 Classical Civilisation modules are open to all and require no previous background
- Prerequisite knowledge required for levels 2,3 and 4

Comparative Literature (COMPLIT)

- Single semester students can choose from Levels 1, 2 and some level 4 courses which can be taken in a single-semester version
- Full year students: Levels 1 – 4 available

English Language & Linguistics (ENGLANG)

- No prerequisites for entry into Level 1 courses.
- Prerequisite knowledge required for levels 2 and 4.
- Level 3 courses not available to visiting students.
- For students coming from European partners, these courses are only available where we have a subject-specific or university-wide agreement in place, and for full year duration only.

COLLEGE OF ARTS

English for Academic Study (EAS)

- Students attending under any agreement can request these courses.
 - EAP language courses have specific language level entry requirements and restrictions
 - 1) EAP 1- places on the course are normally offered to students whose English level is not above B2 or IELTS 6.0 or equivalent unless your scores in writing and/or speaking are significantly lower.
 - 2) EAP 2- places on the course are normally offered to students whose English level is not below B2 or IELTS 6.0 (or equivalent) and above C1 or IELTS 7.5 or higher in all skills.
- Please note: EAP 2 course is not available to students enrolled on any English Language/Linguistics courses at the University of Glasgow or their home institution.
- We strongly discourage taking EAP 1 and EAP 2 in the same semester as they are both high in contact hours (5 hours per week each) and have been designed to respond to different needs.
 - For further details, please contact arts-languages@glasgow.ac.uk
 - For specific questions regarding EAP 1, please contact Jolanta.Hudson@glasgow.ac.uk and for EAP 2 Marcus.Szilagyi@glasgow.ac.uk
 - For more information visit the EAP section on our EAS website
 - You will receive more information about these courses closer to the time of your arrival.

English Literature (ENGLIT)

- If you are an English major, you may take up to two level 4 courses in English Literature. You should take your remaining 20 credits in an alternative subject. Literature classes are also available in the subject areas of Comparative Literature and Scottish Literature
- If you are not an English major, you are restricted to level 1 and 2 classes. You will not be given access to level 4
- No pre-requisites required for Level 1
- Students cannot mix level 1 and level 2 courses.
- As the assessments are based on close reading, a high level of English is recommended

Film & Television Studies (FTV)

- Students may request courses from level 1 and 2 but please note these are often over-subscribed and they do require some relevant academic background in the subject
- Students can only take a maximum of two level 4 courses per semester.
- Level 3 and 4 courses require substantial academic background in the subject
- Level 3 and 4 Practical Film-making courses are not available to visiting students

COLLEGE OF ARTS

French (FRENCH)

- Most courses in French run over both semesters and there will be limited choice for students visiting for a single semester, especially for honours (level 4) courses.
- Students seeking Beginners to intermediate language courses for a single semester should refer to the French for International Mobility courses listed under Modern Foreign Languages in the Course Catalogue.
- FRENCH1005 (Beginners French) is an accelerated 40-credit course. It can be taken for Semester 1 only with the convenor's agreement for 20 credits. Inexperienced language learners may cope better with the International Mobility courses.
- Other Level 1 and 2 French language and culture courses worth 20 credits can normally be taken for a single semester for 10 credits, subject to approval from the course convenor.
- FRENCH4086 Senior Honours Written Language can be taken for a single semester for 10 credits. Advanced level of French and English required.
- MODLANG4102 (Translation studies/English to French Translation) can be taken by French native speakers either for both semesters (20 credits) or for semester 1 only (10 credits).

German (GERMAN)

- Students attending under German agreements are welcome to request courses from other subjects in the School of Modern Languages and Cultures, however, there may be timetable clashes.
- Full year and semester 1 only students may take Level 1 Beginners (GERMAN1003). Full year students will be given priority on this course, semester 1 only students will only be allocated after full year students are placed
- German language courses are not available to native German speakers
- Prerequisite knowledge required for levels 2, 3 and 4
- If you need Literature courses for your home degree, you can also choose from Scottish Literature, Comparative Literature and English Literature (Levels 1 or 2 only).
- Semester 2 only students cannot take any language courses with a GERMAN code – you should refer to Languages for International Mobility instead

History (HIST)

- No prerequisites for entry into Level 1 courses
- Prerequisite knowledge required for levels 2, 3 and 4
- Please note that the following courses are often oversubscribed:
 - HIST1022: Introduction to Scottish Culture Semester 1
 - HIST1025: Introduction to Scottish Culture Semester 2
- Please note that not all courses shown in the course catalogue will run every year. Normally only a selection of these will be on offer

COLLEGE OF ARTS

History of Art (HISTART)

- Level 1 is available to all students, subject to availability.
- Pre-requisites are required for level 2 and above

Information Studies (INFOST)

- No prerequisites for entry into Level 1 courses
- Prerequisite knowledge required for levels 2, 3 and 4

Italian (ITALIAN)

- Students attending under Italian agreements are welcome to request courses from other subjects in the School of Modern Languages and Cultures, however, there may be timetable clashes.
- Full year and semester 1 only students may take ITALIAN1005 or ITALIAN2011
- Only full year students may take Level 1 Beginners (ITALIAN1004)
- If you need Literature courses for your home degree, you can also choose from Scottish Literature, Comparative Literature and English Literature (Levels 1 or 2 only).
- Semester 2 only students cannot take any language courses with an ITALIAN code – you should refer to Languages for International Mobility instead (see below)

Languages for International Mobility (MFL Unit within the School of Modern Languages and Cultures)

- Any visiting student can request these courses
- Students are restricted to two language courses per semester
- These courses mostly cover levels CEFR A1 – B1
- If you have prior experience in a language, you should enrol in an Int Mob 2, 3 or 4 course. You will take a short entry quiz on Moodle to determine the most appropriate level for you. This normally happens after you have registered at Glasgow
- Courses available in Arabic, Catalan, Chinese (Mandarin), French, German, Italian, Japanese, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, and Ukrainian
- More information can be found here

Music (MUSIC)

- No prerequisites for MUSIC1020
- MUSIC1021 requires knowledge of Music theory
- All other courses require prerequisite knowledge of subject
- Performance courses (Foundation, Intermediate, Higher, Advanced) require an audition to take place in week 0 of the academic year
- Semester 1-only students are normally able to take a single-semester version (10 credits) of year-long courses. Please note that options to take semester 2-only versions of year-long courses are limited.

COLLEGE OF ARTS

Philosophy (PHIL)

- Please note that not all courses shown in the course catalogue will run every year. Normally only a selection of these will be on offer
- No previous Philosophy knowledge is required for entry at levels 1 and 2.
- Prerequisite knowledge is required for levels 3 and 4

Portuguese (PORT)

- Level 1 (no pre-requisites) and Level 2 courses are available to students from other agreements
- Students attending under Portuguese agreements are welcome to request courses from other subjects in the School of Modern Languages and Cultures, however, there may be timetable clashes.
- If you need Literature courses for your home degree, you can also choose from Scottish Literature, Comparative Literature and English Literature (Levels 1 or 2 only).

Russian (RUSSIAN)

- Full year students may take RUSSIAN1001, RUSSIAN2011 and RUSSIAN2012. Single semester students can only take these courses if they receive subject coordinator approval.
- Full year and semester 1 students may take the following level 4 courses (subject to coordinator approval):
 - RUSSIAN4042 – Queerness in Russophone Cultures
 - RUSSIAN4038 Russian Literature and State Power
- Single semester exchange students may refer to the Languages for International Mobility courses
- There may be timetable clashes between Russian and other SMLC courses.
- Approval for all Levels apart from Level 1 will be subject to review during Orientation

Scottish Literature (SCOTLIT)

- Students attending under a Scottish Literature agreement may request courses from Scottish Literature, Comparative Literature and English Literature (Levels 1 or 2)
- Students attending under a Scottish Literature agreement whose own degree programme has a focus on Scottish Literature may consider literature/interdisciplinary courses offered through Celtic Studies

Slavonic Studies (SLAV/CZECH/POLISH)

- Students attending under Slavonic Studies/Comparative Literature agreements can request courses from Comparative Literature, Scottish Literature, History and Czech/Polish/Russian etc. depending on linguistic aptitude and academic background. Please note availability of courses in History may be limited.

COLLEGE OF ARTS

Spanish (HISP)

- Students attending under Hispanic Studies agreements can also request courses from Scottish Literature, Comparative Literature and English Literature (Levels 1 or 2)
- Courses from other subjects in the School of Modern Languages and Cultures can be requested, however, there may be timetable clashes
- Please note translation courses are occasionally oversubscribed. In the event of these not being available, translation students can normally find a suitable alternative with HIS-P3004
- Only full year students may take HISP1008, HISP1009, HISP1007, HISP2010 or HIS-P2011. Please note that these courses are often oversubscribed. Students coming for only one semester should refer to Languages for International Mobility instead.

Theatre Studies (THEATRE)

- No prerequisites required for Level One courses and for THEATRE2001; THEATRE2002 requires some relevant academic background in the subject
- Levels 3 and 4 are only available to students confirmed as Theatre majors at their home universities
- Please note the following courses are not available to visiting students:
- Performance Theory and Analysis (THEATRE4009)
- Theatre Studies Single Honours Group Project (THEATRE4014)
- Practice based courses have caps and entry cannot be guaranteed

Theology & Religious Studies (TRS)

- All course choices have to be approved by the subject coordinator in TRS and are subject to availability
- Courses that run across both semesters 1 and 2 are not available to single semester students (e.g. TRS1003)
- Level 1 courses - open to all students with a major in humanities or social sciences, and to students with other majors (e.g. in Science and Engineering) subject to approval
- Level 2 courses - open to all students with a major in humanities and with relevant previous study; subject coordinator approval needed
- Level 3 and 4 courses - open only to students with sufficient previous relevant study, generally in Theology and Religious Studies (this course programme rotates over two years)
- Special arrangements will be made for semester 1 only students who are taking courses with examinations at the end of semester 2.

COLLEGE OF MEDICAL, VETERINARY AND LIFE SCIENCES

Biology and Biomedical Sciences (BIOL)

- No pre-requisites are required for level 1 Biology & Life Sciences courses
- At least 40 credits must be selected within Biology and Biomedical Sciences.
- Level 2 consists of 2 courses in semester 1:
 - Fundamental Topics in Biology 2 (BIOL2039) – 30 Credits
 - Contemporary Issues in Biology 2 (BIOL2040) – 30 Credits
- and 4 courses in semester 2:
 - Animal Biology, Evolution and Ecology 2 (BIOL2041) – 30 Credits
 - Genes, Molecules and Cells 2 (BIOL2042) – 30 Credits
 - Human Biological Sciences 2 (BIOL2043) – 30 Credits
 - Microbiology & Immunity 2 (BIOL2044) – 30 Credits
- Level 3 course are 60 credits and run for one Semester. If you are here for a full year, you would be expected to take the partner course to the Semester 1 course in semester 2 i.e. Animal Biology 3A and 3B. Most Level 3 classes have course codes beginning BIOL4xxx but can be identified by having 3A or 3B in their names.
- Students looking to take level 4 classes should be aware of the following:
- Semester 1 will have 2 option blocks, consisting of:
 - A compulsory Core course worth 20 credits (taking place on Mondays)
 - An additional option course worth 20 credits (taking place on Fridays)
 - You would not be able to take a full course load in Biology and would therefore need to take another 20 credits in a different subject area
- Semester 2 will have 4 option blocks:
 - Block A will take place on Mondays, Block B on Tuesdays, Block C on Thursdays, and Block D on Fridays
 - All of these options will be worth 20 credits, and you could therefore take a full course load in Biology if eligible
- We therefore recommend semester 2 or full year study for Biology
- Students taking Level 4 courses can only take 1 course in each 5-week teaching block as assessments are at the same time for all courses in the block
- Entry to level 4 classes is dependent on students having a suitable and often substantial background knowledge to the subject in hand. For example, a University of Glasgow student taking a level 4 course in Applied Anatomy would have done 33% of their year one credits in General Biology, at least 50% of their year two credits in biology courses with 25% of that in specific reference to Human Biology and 100% of their year 3 would have been focussed on Anatomy before they would then be permitted to join this level 4 course. Therefore, if you have little background in the main subject area of a level 4 course then it is unlikely you will be approved to take it.

Psychology (PSYCH)

- No prerequisites required for Level 1 but please note these courses are often oversubscribed
- Psychology 1B can only be taken by full academic year students who have taken Psychology 1A; Psychology 2B can only be taken by full academic year students who have taken Psychology 2A
- Level 3 classes – Students should have a background of at least 1.5 to 2 years (or an equivalent number of credits) in Psychology
- Level 4 classes – Students should have a background of at least 2.5 to 3 years (or an equivalent number of credits) in Psychology

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

Astronomy (ASTRO)

- Most Astronomy courses are year-long and hence unsuitable for semester only students
- ASTRO1001 is not always available, but we recommend ASTRO1003/ASTRO1004 Exploring the Cosmos

Chemistry (CHEM)

- Please note that it is normally not possible to take Chemistry classes alongside other subjects due to timetabling constraints.
- Levels within Chemistry cannot be mixed. Students take all credits from one approved level in this subject.
- There are limited options for Semester 1 and Semester 2 only students – a full year duration for this subject is preferable.
- Attendance is compulsory at all class lectures, tutorials and laboratories

Computing Science (COMPSCI)

- Most exams for level 3 and 4 take place in April/May
- Most level 3 and 4 courses are therefore not available to Semester 1 students
- Semester 1 students are not permitted to take level 3 and 4 courses that are assessed in April/May as alternative invigilation at home institution is not possible.
- Due to exam requirements, we recommend study durations of semester 2 and full year.
- Only the following courses can be selected for semester 1 only exchange:
 - COMPSCI4009 Algorithmics I (H)
 - COMPSCI4014 Interactive Systems (H)
 - COMPSCI4038 Professional Skills and Issues (H)

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

Engineering (ENG)

- Please refer to the School of Engineering Course Selection Guide
- Level 1 and 2 are not available to visiting students
- Some Engineering degree programmes only offer 40/50 credits in one semester, unfortunately you cannot choose from another Engineering discipline and will need to take credits within another School
- Visiting students are expected to follow the School of Engineering course selection guide and only take courses associated with one single Engineering degree, and all at the same level
- Please ensure you carefully select your choice of discipline and level at point of application – changes of discipline after arrival are not possible
- Project work and project-based courses are not available in 2023/24.

Geography & Earth Science (GEOG and EARTH)

- Administrative fees apply for courses involving a field work/trip option

Mathematics (MATHS)

- All exams for Level 3 and 4 take place in April/May.
- Semester 1 students are not permitted to take level 3 and 4 courses as alternative invigilation at home institution is not possible.
- Due to exam requirements, we recommend study durations of semester 2 and full year.

Physics (PHYS)

- Semester 1 only students must register for the December exam diet version of Level 3, 4 & 5 courses and must inform relevant Course Convenors.
- Introductory Physics (PHYS1010) is available to Level 1 Semester 1 only students but, it will only run if there is a sufficient number of students. More information on this will be provided to students during subject orientation
- A minority of Level 5 courses may be available to students who are studying at postgraduate level at their home university. This is an exception to the standard rule that level 5 classes are not available. Please note that there may be timetabling difficulties when mixing levels.

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

Statistics (STATS)

- Only selected level 3 and level 4 courses are available to visiting students.
- All exams for Levels 3 and 4 take place in April/May.
- Semester 1 students are not permitted to take level 3 and 4 courses as alternative invigilation at home institution is not possible.
- Due to exam requirements, we recommend study durations of semester 2 and full year.

COLLEGE OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

Accounting and Finance (ACCFIN)

- Students coming under an Accounting and Finance agreement are welcome to request courses from Economics and Management (subject to background)
- Level 3 courses are not available to visiting students
- Course codes for courses which list (Exchange) at the end of the course name are internal codes only. Please instead choose the main, non-exchange, course code on your application.

Central and Eastern European Studies (CEES)

- Please note that not all courses shown in the course catalogue will run every year. Normally only a selection of these will be on offer
- Students coming under a Central and Eastern European Studies agreement must take 40 out of 60 Glasgow credits per semester within this subject area
- A minority of courses from other subject areas can be requested but admittance will be subject to academic background and course availability

Economics (ECON)

- In order to take courses in this subject area, you must request them on your application form. You will not be able to request Economics courses when you arrive in Glasgow
- Entry requirements for Honours courses: Students must have previously completed courses in Introductory and Intermediate Micro and Macro Economics plus some Maths/Stats.
- Students cannot mix levels within this subject; courses should be selected from one level
- Students coming under an Economics agreement are welcome to request courses from Accounting, Finance and Management (subject to background)
- Level 3 courses are not available to visiting students
- ECON2002 has been designed to be combined with ECON1011 and it is recommended to take these courses together
- Course codes for courses which list (Exchange) at the end of the course name are internal codes only. Please instead choose the main, non-exchange, course code on your application.

Economic & Social History (ESH)

- No prerequisites required for level 1 and level 2 courses
- All students are welcome to request classes in this subject area. Approval will be subject to academic background and course availability

Education (EDUC)

- Limited availability of courses in semester 2; we recommend semester 1 or full year
- Placement courses and study trips are not available to visiting students

Interdisciplinary Studies (Dumfries campus) (DUMF)

- Our Dumfries Campus is a satellite campus. It is therefore NOT possible to take courses from both our Dumfries Campus and our Main Campus.
- Limited availability of courses in semester 2
- A study duration of semester 1 or full year is recommended

Law (LAW)

- Please refer to the Law School's Visiting Students Guide which is being continually updated with new information for 2023-24, so please check regularly.

Management (MGT)

- In order to take courses in this subject area, you must request them on your application form. You will not be able to request Management courses when you arrive in Glasgow
- Students cannot mix levels within this subject; courses should be selected from one level
- If you are studying in year 2 or 3 of a bachelor's degree with a focus on business and management, we suggest you select Level 4 courses
- Students coming under a Management agreement are welcome to request courses from Economics and Accounting and Finance (subject to background)
- Levels 1, 2, 3 are not available to Visiting Students
- Course codes for courses listed as EXCHANGE (e.g. MARKETING COMMUNICATIONS (EXCHANGE STUDENTS) MGT4101) should not be selected as they are internal codes only. Please instead choose the main, non-exchange, course code on your application (e.g. MARKETING COMMUNICATIONS MGT4013)

Politics (POLITIC)

- Students cannot mix levels within this subject; classes should be selected from one level
- Level 1, 2 and 3 courses are not available
- Prerequisites (previous knowledge of Politics) are required for level 4
- A restricted number of courses are available to visiting students

COLLEGE OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

Public Policy (PUBPOL)

- No prerequisites are required for level 1 courses.
- Prerequisites (previous knowledge of social and public policy or related areas) are required for levels 2, 3 and 4 courses.
- If you are studying in your penultimate/final year of a bachelor or undergraduate degree with a focus on social and public policy, we suggest you select level 4 courses (instead of level 3.)
- For most up to date information about the programme, course choices, and events and advice, please follow the Public Policy Twitter and Instagram: @UofGSPP

Sociology (SOCIO)

- No prerequisites are required for level 1 courses.
- Prerequisites are required for levels 2, 3 and 4.
- Level 3 and 4 courses are usually only available to students on a Sociology home degree or major
