

Arts & Humanities
Research Council

Transnational Approaches to the History of International Relations
Workshop 2 of the AHRC-funded Research Network:
'The Practice of International History in the Twenty-First Century'

University of Leeds, 22 September 2016
The Grant Room, Rm. 3.13, Michael Sadler Building

Programme

9.00-9.30: Coffee and introductory remarks

9.30-11.00: Panel 1

- 1. Laurence Badel (University of Paris I): The genesis of the Asia Europe Meeting (1996): between national interests and interregional dialogue
- 2. Steffen Rimmer (International Institute for Asian Studies, Leiden): The sabotage of international law: Republican China, Francophone transnationalism and strategic de-politicization
- 3. Piers Ludlow (LSE): Enlarging the European Community/Union - a matter for governments

Commentary by Laura Considine (University of Leeds)

11.00-11.30: Coffee break

11.30-1.00: Panel 2

- 1. Tarak Barkawi (LSE) and George Lawson (LSE): The International Origins of Social and Political Theory
- 2. Or Rosenboim (Queens' College, Cambridge): The political spaces of the history of international thought

Commentary by George Lawson

1.00-2.30: Lunch

2.30-4.00: Panel 3

- 1. Quincy Cloet (Aberystwyth): International expertise and knowledge production in the realm of world politics: The League of Nations and its inquiry into forced labour in Liberia
- 2. Patricia Clavin (Jesus College, Oxford): Human Security and Transnational History
- 3. Samuel Cohn (University of Glasgow): Psycho-social responses to cholera and influenza in the 19th and 20th centuries: a transnational question

Commentary by Charlotte Alston (University of Northumbria)

4.15-5.00: Wine and concluding remarks

The Practice of International History in the 21st Century (PIH21) is an AHRC-funded network which aims bring together a group of leading scholars and members of the policy community to produce a collective reconsideration of the nature and contemporary practice of international history.

Web: www.gla.ac.uk/pih21

Email: arts-pih21@glasgow.ac.uk

