GUSA recognise that the consumption of alcohol is a part of the "university experience" for many students however, this consumption need not be excessive, cause harm to student members or cause disrepute to the organisation. Under no circumstances should students who refrain from drinking alcohol be bullied, harassed or coerced into drinking. Students who are already intoxicated must not be encouraged, coerced, or forcibly made to consume more alcohol or other substances GUSA recognise the need to encourage safer drinking habits amongst the student population and have adopted the BUCS initiation policy whereby there is a zero-tolerance approach to club initiations. (see appendix)

1.9. An initiation or other associated terminology reflecting 'initiations' such as "hazing" is an event in which prospective or current members of a club are expected to perform any activity as a means of gaining credibility, status or entry into that club. The peer pressure is normally (though not explicitly) exerted on first year members or members new to that particular club and may involve the consumption of alcohol, eating concoctions of various food stuffs, nudity and any behaviour that may be deemed humiliating. The following guidelines are in place to protect the students: Under no circumstances should any student be subject to any form of 'initiation' activity as a means of gaining entry or acceptance to a sports club.

1.10. Members of GUSA Clubs will not apply what may be perceived as peer pressure upon individuals in any social situation. This also extends to any activity deemed as “club tradition”
