POSTGRADUATE OPEN DAY
14 NOVEMBER 2019
WORLD CHANGERS WELCOME
I am delighted that you have chosen to attend our Postgraduate Open Day. I hope it will show you what a fantastic place this University is. We welcome students from all over the world which creates a lively community, offering one of the best student experiences in the country, as recognised by the National Student Survey.

Our Postgraduate Open Day will give you a taste of what puts Glasgow in the world’s top 100 universities. It’s an invaluable opportunity to find out more about your academic areas of interest, meet staff and current students, and gather information and advice on important topics such as admissions, finance and accommodation.

Make the most of the day. Ask questions. Take in the vibrant atmosphere of our unique and beautiful campus, explore the West End of Glasgow and experience our exciting city! What you see, hear and absorb today will, I hope, help you select Glasgow as your University of choice. May I wish you well with your forthcoming postgraduate studies and every success for the future.

Best wishes

Professor Sir Anton Muscatelli
Principal and Vice Chancellor

Meeting Point: 1.15pm at the SoMDN stand in GUU Drawing Room, Level 1 (E8)

Join us on a tour of the Queen Elizabeth University Hospital (QEUH) and, in particular, the Critical Care Department. You will have the opportunity to attend a live lecture to allow you to observe first-hand a component of our MSc Critical Care on-campus programme and be able to meet our other education team members (note: an online version of the programme was launched Sept 2019).

The Clinical Teaching Fellows will meet you at the School of Medicine, Dentistry & Nursing stand in the Glasgow University Union and escort you to the Teaching & Learning Centre on the QEUH Site, before showing you all the best places to have coffee in the stunning atrium of the main hospital.

The tour is limited to 15 students maximum. Transport to and from the University will be provided. The tour group will leave at 1.15pm to travel by taxi to the QEUH for the lecture starting at 2pm.

1.15-3pm
Epidemiology (Garscube Campus)
Institute of Biodiversity, Animal Health & Comparative Medicine
Meeting Point 1.15pm at the IBACM stand in GUU Drawing Room, Level 1 (E8)

Students interested in studying MSc Epidemiology of Infectious Diseases of Antimicrobial Resistance or simply just those interested in visiting our Garscube campus are welcome to join the tour to visit some of IBACM’s labs there. We will visit microbiological facilities – the OH-BBD lab (One Health Research in Bacterial Infectious Diseases) and parasitology laboratories, all located within the Jarrett, McCall and Urquhart Buildings. You will have the opportunity to see the facilities and speak with researchers and students based there.

The tour is limited to 15 students maximum. Transport to and from the University will be provided. The tour group will depart at 1.15pm to travel by taxi to Garscube Campus for the tour commencing at 2pm.

1.30-2.45pm
Institute of Infection, Immunity & Inflammation Tour: Sir Graham Davies Building
Meeting Point: 1.30pm at the III stand in GUU Drawing Room, Level 1 (E8)

The tour will be based in the Sir Graham Davies Building where Parasitology, Bacteriology and Immunology researchers are based. Participants will have a tour of the labs where MSc students undertake projects and be introduced to specialist facilities in the Institute. Participants will have the opportunity to interact with members of staff who run these facilities.

The tour is limited to 10 students maximum.

1.45-3.45pm
School of Simulation & Visualisation Tour at the Glasgow School of Art
Meeting Point: 1.45pm at the Life Sciences stand in the Glasgow University Union and escort you to the Teaching & Learning Centre on the QEUH Site, before showing you all the best places to have coffee in the stunning atrium of the main hospital.

The tour is limited to 10 students maximum.

We have over 40 degrees across a wide range of areas, including Sociology and Criminology, Politics, International Relations and Security, Real Estate, Planning and Urban Studies, Social Research and Big Data.

You’ll have the chance to hear directly from subject staff and learn more about the School and the various learning and employability opportunities available to you as part of your degree experience. Applicants interested in learning more about the Erasmus Mundus opportunities to study on one of our four joint and double degree programmes with universities across Europe are strongly encouraged to attend this session.

1.20-3.30pm
Adam Smith Business School: Interactive Session
ASBS Lecture Theatre 206, West Quad, Main Building (A9)

Find out about the postgraduate opportunities available to you at the triple accredited Adam Smith Business School. Take part in our interactive session, “Changing the world through creativity”, to gain an insight into the learning experience we offer.

Our Programme Convenors and current students will also be on hand to answer your questions during a Q&A session. Students interested in studying a degree in the fields of Accounting & Finance, Economics, Management, MBA, Financial Technology or Master of Global Business are most welcome.

1pm-2pm
Education (Primary/Secondary), PGDE
St Andrew’s Building, Lecture Theatre 213 (E14)

Come and speak to our programme leader to find out about everything you always wanted to know about our Postgraduate Diploma in Education (PGDE). What are the entry requirements? What subjects can I qualify in? How many classes are there in a week? When will I be on placement? Have all of these types of questions answered during this informal information session.

1-1.30pm
Children’s Literature and Literacies, MEd
St Andrew’s Building, Seminar Room 237AB (E14)

Find out all about this programme, dedicated to children’s and young adults’ literature as a primary resource and field of academic study. You will develop a specialism which is highly valued in professions such as education, library services and children’s media.

1.30-2pm
Museum Education, MSc
St Andrew’s Building, Seminar Room 237AB (E14)

Find out about this programme which will provide you with exciting opportunities to develop critical knowledge and skills associated with learning in and through museums and galleries. Building on your academic, professional and personal experiences and qualifications, it will deepen your social, culture, historical and philosophical understanding of museum education.

2.30-3pm
MSc Educational Studies in Adult, Community and Youth Contexts
St Andrew’s Building, Lecture Theatre 213 (E14)

Learn about this exciting programme which combines frameworks of theory and practice from youth studies, adult and lifelong learning, and community-based education and development. Building on a wide range of contexts, backgrounds and experience, this programme equips and qualifies students to move into research, practice, and teaching in the broad range of educational fields outside compulsory schooling.

3-3.30pm
Psychological Studies
St Andrew’s Building, Lecture Theatre 213 (E14)

Find out about the many domains of psychology, and how our programme can start you along your career path to being a professional psychologist. We will speak about counselling, clinical, social, developmental, cognitive, health, occupational and educational psychology domains.

The MSc in Psychological Studies is a challenging one-year conversion programme designed to provide you with a broad and critical awareness of psychological theory and practice, together with opportunities to focus on the aspects of psychology of particular relevance to your own experience and interests. The programme will enable you to build on the transferable skills you have attained in your previous undergraduate degree. It will provide you with the necessary level of study to meet the standards and requirements for the Graduate Basis for Chartered Membership of the British Psychological Society, and move you forward to meet your career goals.

3.30-4pm
