

NEWS IN BRIEF

Scots academic leads China study

A team of researchers led by Professor Jane Duckett of Glasgow University is to examine the response of the Chinese government to the coronavirus outbreak. They will assess the measures put in place to combat the pandemic, which originated in the city of Wuhan.

