

Archaeology Seminar Series 2020/21 - Semester 2

Wednesday 20 January 2021

Gordon Noble and Cathy Maclver: Redating Clatchard Craig AND The Kings Seat: An Update on Excavations at an early historic hillfort near Dunkeld .

(Part IV of 'The Form and Fabric of Early Medieval Britain: Reflections on the archaeology of Ewan Campbell': a seminar series hosted jointly between Archaeology and the Centre for Scottish and Celtic Studies in 2020-21, in honour of the achievements of archaeologist Ewan Campbell, University of Glasgow)

Wednesday 27 January 2021

Jennifer Bates (University of Pennsylvania): Beyond Cereals: exploring agriculture, food and social organisation in the Indus Civilisation.

Wednesday 3 February 2021

Daniel Contreras: Identifying Human Responses to Holocene Climate Change: Population, Environment, and Landscape Taphonomy in the Bonneville Basin, Utah.

Wednesday 10 February 2021

Gareth Beale, Michael Given, Megan Kasten, Ceit Langhorne, Elizabeth Robertson, Eddie Stewart: Gleann Comhann/Glencoe: landscape and performance in a digital glen.

Wednesday 17 February 2021

Sharon Webb and Niall Sharples: Kilmartin, A Museum in the Making AND When did the Outer Hebrides become Gaelic and Scottish.

(Part V of 'The Form and Fabric of Early Medieval Britain: Reflections on the archaeology of Ewan Campbell': a seminar series hosted jointly between Archaeology and the Centre for Scottish and Celtic Studies in 2020-21, in honour of the achievements of archaeologist Ewan Campbell, University of Glasgow)

Wednesday 24 February 2021

Astrid Van Oyen: An Archaeology of Having: Poverty, Plunder and Possession on the Roman Frontier.

Wednesday 3 March 2021

Marta Innes: Scottish Bronze Age Food Vessel Pottery: a new materialist approach to corpus assemblages.

Wednesday 10 March 2021

Lisa-Marie Shillito: Investigating the nature and timing of the earliest human occupation of North America using a novel integration of biogeochemistry and micromorphology.

Wednesday 17 March 2021

Naomi Sykes: The Easter Egg project.

Wednesday 24 March 2021

Enrico Crema: The good, the bad, and the ugly in radiocarbon-based paleo-demography.

Wednesday 21 April 2021

Jaafar Jotheri (University of Al-Qadisiyah): Results of a New Archaeological Survey to the Western Part of Uruk.

Wednesday 28 April 2021

VII: Towards An Archaeology of the Insular Zone

Prof Stephen Driscoll (University of Glasgow) and Adrián Maldonado (National Museums Scotland)

With Ewan Campbell (University of Glasgow)

Wednesday 5 May 2021

Petra Vaiglova: Farming and feasting in Neolithic Greece: insight from multi-isotopic analyses at Makriyalos and Kouphovouno

Wednesday 19 May 2021 at 1pm

Conor McAdams (University of Wollongong): New insights into the Pleistocene archaeology of Vietnam: understanding tropical cave sediments through microstratigraphic investigations and laboratory experiments

Please register on Eventbrite for zoom link: <https://tinyurl.com/bajhw5up>