

Centre for Scottish and Celtic Studies

Ionad Eòlas na h-Alba is na Ceiltis

Tuesday* evening seminars, Semester 1 2012

● = Vox Populi series (chairs: Karin Bowie, Catriona Macdonald)

Time: 5.30pm

Location: Room 202, 3 University Gardens

NB: Please the alternative days Wednesday 14 Nov, Monday 3 Dec
and the *alternative location for 25 Sept only

18 Sept: Welcome party

●25 Sept: Ted Cowan, 'The Declaration of Arbroath and its Afterlife'; Mason: 'Why the Declaration of Arbroath doesn't matter: an early modern perspective' (chair: Dauvit Broun)
Nb: Location = Gannochy Room, Wolfson Medical Building

2 Oct: Domhnall Uilleam Stiubhart (University of Edinburgh and Sabhal Mòr Ostaig), Leisure and Recreation in an Age of Clearance: Hebridean Michaelmas

9 Oct: Edel Bhreathnach (University College Dublin), 'Identifying the "old"/"pre-Christian" belief system in Ireland'

●16 Oct: Steven Reid, 'What Andrew Melville really thought of James VI: Popular Sovereignty and the Role of the Magistrate in early Jacobean Scotland'

23 Oct: Thomas Clancy, 'Language and land in 12th- and 13th- century Ayrshire: place-names in the earliest Cunninghame charters'

●30 Oct: Karin Bowie, 'National Opinion and the Union Question in the Union of Crowns'

6 Nov: Stephen Driscoll, 'SERF 1 - Royal Forteviot: landscape setting and political contexts'

● Wed 14 Nov: Keith Brown, 'Elections, voting and representation in early modern Scotland'

20 Nov: Prof John Cairns (University of Edinburgh), 'Slaves and Slaveowners in Eighteenth-Century Scotland'

This is a joint seminar, co-hosted by the Hook Centre for American Studies.

27 Nov: Matthew Hammond (University of Edinburgh), 'The origins of the earldom of Lennox'

Mon 3 Dec: The Angus Matheson Lecture – Joseph Falaky Nagy (University of California, Los Angeles), Title tbc.

11 Dec: Launch of Alan Macquarrie's An Index of Scottish Saints and Christmas drinks