GOOD NEIGHBOUR POLICY

The University and its accommodation support the principles of being a good neighbour and expect visitors and guests to the accommodation to be bound to this principle by always behaving responsibly.

Our accommodation operates within a wider community framework, including homeowners and local businesses together with service providers such as police, fire and ambulance services and the City Council. Students will use these services and facilities and be living as part of this community and should do so with respect.

Examples of behaviour expected include:

- Using refuse/garbage bins correctly and not dropping litter in the street.
- Respecting the property of others e.g., fences; walls; parked cars; outdoor furniture.
- When returning home late at night, or in the early hours of the morning, be aware that noise travels and is capable of disturbing others.
- Consider the effect alcohol can have on your behaviour and the way others may view it and moderate consumption accordingly.
- Being aware of other people’s sensibilities and beliefs and recognise that some jokes or behaviour may be provocative and offensive to others.

The above is not exhaustive and is intended to raise awareness and give general insight into the behaviour expected of our residents.

Any person engaging in anti-social behaviour can expect Accommodation Services to take appropriate action.

Depending on the circumstances, disciplinary procedures may be invoked. See Student Sanctions for further detail, as well as escalation levels. Where behaviour extends beyond nuisance into criminality it will not be tolerated and will be reported to the police.

Please note that drinking alcohol in public places is prohibited in Glasgow. The consumption of alcohol, or possession of an open container of alcohol, in public places is illegal. Breaking this law can lead to a fine.
