Objectives 2022-23

Future objectives that were set at last year's PDR (2021-22) will now appear in your new form for 2022-23 under Current Objectives

Exemptions and Eligibility for PDR

The following groups of staff are fully exempt from the PDR process:

- Those on an NHS clinical academic pay scale
- Those who are on a contract of less than 0.2FTE

The following staff are required to set objectives only:

- Staff who started on or after 1 January 2022
- Staff who increased their hours to greater than 0.2 fte after 1 January 2022

Absence/Leave

Where there has been a significant period of absence within the PDR year, i.e., long-term sick leave, maternity/paternity leave, research leave, furlough, etc., such staff may be exempt from participating in the PDR process, with exemptions permitted by the local People & OD team.

However, if exempt, objectives and development plans will be required to be refreshed and updated on the staff member's return to work to enable future engagement in the process.

Resignation

Where a staff member is due to leave the University during the annual review period there will be no formal end of year assessment, however, regular informal review meetings should take place between the line manager and the staff member in accordance with operational needs.

If you have been assigned a PDR form and believe you should be exempt, please log a call with your local People and OD team via the Helpdesk. Log a call with the P&OD Helpdesk here.

Your PDR Form

To launch your PDR form, click anywhere in the box marked '2021-2022 PDR'.

Each member of staff in the University has a unique PDR form associated with their appointment(s).

For example, staff on the Research and Teaching (R&T) track should have an R&T form, those on the Learning Teaching and Scholarship (LTS) track will have an LTS form, and most Professional Services' staff will complete a PDR Light form. You can confirm which form you have been assigned at the top of the screen. Staff who have multiple posts will have a form relevant to each appointment.

Your Objectives: How to Create, Delete, and Edit

Editing Current Objectives

Future Objectives entered in a previous PDR round become Current Objectives the next year, and you can provide comment on your advancement of these by clicking into the objective and entering comment in the Employee Assessment of Progress box. Remember to click Save before closing.

A text input field with the title 'Employee Assessment of Progress' and a character/word limit: 'This statement should be no more than 4000 characters / 350 words'. The field is currently empty.

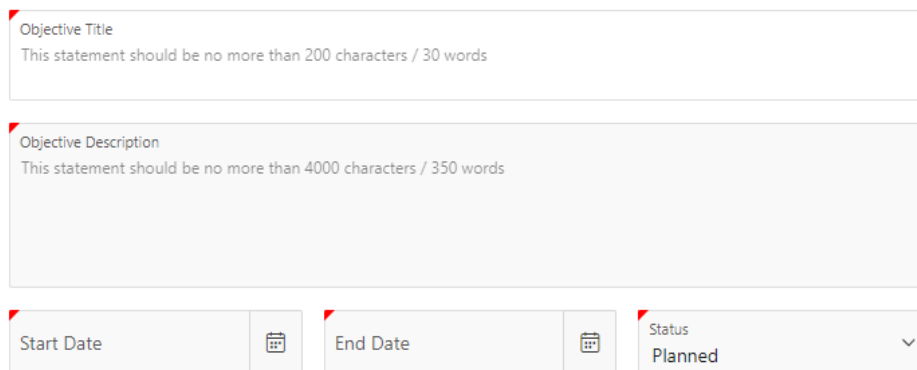

You can also change the status of these objectives using the drop-down options as shown here.

Creating a Current Objective

You may wish to add an objective you have been working towards over the last year.

To do this click the “Create” button  in the Future objectives tab and a box will appear as below where you can enter a title, description, Start Date, End Date, and Status. The red triangle denotes a mandatory field.

The screenshot shows a form for creating an objective. It consists of several fields:

- Objective Title: A text input field with a red triangle in the top-left corner. Below the field, it says "This statement should be no more than 200 characters / 30 words".
- Objective Description: A larger text input field with a red triangle in the top-left corner. Below the field, it says "This statement should be no more than 4000 characters / 350 words".
- Start Date: A date selection field with a red triangle in the top-left corner and a calendar icon.
- End Date: A date selection field with a red triangle in the top-left corner and a calendar icon.
- Status: A dropdown menu with a red triangle in the top-left corner, currently showing "Planned" and a downward arrow.

Once you have created the objective, clicked Save and finally Close the objective will appear.

Deleting an Objective

If any previously agreed objectives are no longer relevant you may wish to mark them as such via the Status drop-down or delete them entirely.

We recommend discussion with your line manager/reviewer prior to deletion of any Current Objective.

To delete any objective, click on it and then choose Delete at the bottom on the box.

Future Objectives

Your Future Objectives are what you will set in this PDR round and work towards over the next year. When the 2023 PDR round opens, the objectives you create here will become your Current Objectives that you report back on.

You may choose to create a Future Objective which lasts more than one year, but you should remember to specify what elements you will work on over the next year to show advancement.

To create a Future Objective click the “Create” button  and a box will appear as shown. The red triangle denotes a mandatory field.

Once you have created the objective, clicked Save and finally Close the objective will appear.

Within the R&T and LTS forms there is a box where you can document your intention to apply for Academic Promotion in the next round. This information will be viewable to your line manager via their 'My Staff PDR' screen.

University Values

You can align your Future objectives with up to two University Values if you wish to do so. More information on the Values can be found here: <https://www.gla.ac.uk/explore/strategy/values/>

Copying an Objective

You may wish to duplicate an objective if you have more than one which contains similar information. To create a duplicate, you should click to open the existing objective (current or future), followed by the word Copy, and the system will auto close and auto open the edit screen for the new objective.

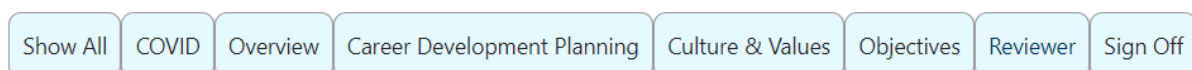

Once you have finished editing the objective, clicked Save then Close and the new objective will appear.
