A small group attended Spring Lunch this time. The talks by Liliias and Trish were interesting and informative and provoked discussion. Trish talked about the magistracy and Liliias spoke about the Wandsworth Older People’s Forum. If you look closely, you will note that people are holding copies of the Forum’s newsletter. Was Liliias on a recruitment drive?

Next Event: The Annual Dinner, Tuesday 28th June 2022

Our President, Tina, would like you to join her at the Old Bank of England in Fleet Street for the first GUWC Annual Dinner since June 2019.

The Old Bank of England is close to the Royal Courts of Justice. Nearest tube stations are Temple and Chancery Lane.

Guests are welcome at this event. The closing date 19th June 2022 (inclusive)

Contact telephone number on the day: Tina Tamman 0790 8992 165.

Speaker: Charles Haviland, BBC journalist

Charles Haviland is an international news journalist at the BBC. Up to 2014 he spent 12 years based in Asia as a correspondent, living in and reporting from Sri Lanka, Nepal, Afghanistan, India and Pakistan and seeking to convey stories of war and peace, human achievement and tragedy, society, culture, economy and more. His work has also taken him to Latin America, North America, South-East Asia and Africa. His current work sees him editing and writing news output for the BBC World Service; his earliest BBC duties saw him tackling news from the USSR, then still in existence and doing its best to liberalise in contrast to the trajectory of today's Russia. He belongs chiefly to both London and central Scotland and still loves, above all, to travel and explore.

Report on the informal dinner, 16th May.

Marjorie reported another lovely evening at the Clermont with lively discussion, great conversations and much laughter. Two new GUWC members attended (Yvonne and Pauline).
