

Privacy Notice

This privacy notice explains how The University of Glasgow will process your personal data in relation to the provision of University accommodation.

Your Personal Data

The University of Glasgow will be what's known as the 'Controller' of the personal data you provide to us as part of the application process. We will collect basic personal data (such as Name, Student ID, Student Applicant ID (e.g. UCAS number), email address(es), phone number, care leaver status, address information, DOB, gender, course and photograph) as well as details regarding Disability and Health which is classified a special category data under The General Data Protection Regulation.

Why we need it

Upon accepting a place to study at The University of Glasgow your details are entered into our accommodation system. This profile allows you to make an application to reside in University provided accommodation at any point throughout your time as a student at the University.

If accepted to reside in University provided accommodation we will use your personal data in order to facilitate your stay and, upon leaving, provide you with references.

Legal basis for processing your data

We must have a legal basis for processing your personal data. In this instance, we require your explicit consent to process the data you provide. If you supply us with data regarding your status as a Care Leaver we will seek to process this data using the legal basis of legitimate interest as your status will determine the type of accommodation you may be placed in as well as the term of your contract. If successful and we offer you a place in residence we will also rely on the accommodation contract as the lawful basis for processing your data. In addition we may contact you from time to time in order to survey your experience with us as an accommodation provider. We will rely on legitimate interest in order to do so.

What we do with it

All of your personal data is processed by University staff within the United Kingdom:

How we collect and process your data:

- Upon accepting a place to study at The University of Glasgow a basic accommodation profile will be made based on your MyCampus details.
- When making an application for accommodation you will be required to supply your personal data as part of the registration process. This data is held within our accommodation system and will be maintained and administrated by University Staff for the purposes of processing your accommodation application, finding the most suitable accommodation for you and if accepted, your stay within University provided accommodation.
- We may also use your details to contact you regarding job opportunities within University provided accommodation as well as surveying you on your experience with us as an accommodation provider.
- If you accept an offer to take up residence within University accommodation your personal data will be shared with University of Glasgow Sport as you will receive a free gym membership as part of your accommodation agreement.
- If there is an incident within University provided Accommodation University or Glasgow Student Villages Limited staff may have cause to record this within the Universities Support Works system for records management purposes.

Automated Processing

When applying for accommodation provided by the University your data will be subject to Automated Processing. The University runs software to analyse a candidate's home address in order to determine if you would be considered a 'local student' or not. The results determine your eligibility to be offered a place within University provided accommodation.

As such we require your explicit consent to process your address information in order to see if you fall under the definition of a 'local student'.

Third Parties

Your data will only be processed for the purposes of maintaining your accommodation profile, administering an application for accommodation, facilitating your stay and providing references upon leaving University provided accommodation. Your data will not be shared with any third parties (with the following limited exception):

- The University of Glasgow works with a facilities management firm, Glasgow Student Villages Limited. Glasgow Student Villages Limited act as our managing agents across Cairncross House, Kelvinhaugh Gate, Kelvinhaugh Street, Murano Street, Queen Margaret Residences and Winton Drive.
- If you are placed within accommodation that Glasgow Student Villages Limited manage, Glasgow Student Villages Limited staff will be able to view your personal data for the purposes of facilitating your stay within said accommodation. They may also contact you in order to survey your experience with them as a facilities management provider.

How long we keep it

If you apply to take up residence within University provided accommodation The University of Glasgow will continue to hold your personal information for the purposes of providing you with references upon your request. As such we will retain your personal data for up to three years after the year you make your last accommodation application

Upon accepting a place to study at The University of Glasgow your details are entered into our accommodation system. This profile allows you to make an application to reside in University provided accommodation at any point throughout your time as a student at the University. If you do not apply for University provided accommodation your accommodation profile and personal data will be deleted upon the termination of your studies.

The retention policies as set out above are effective from the 25th of May 2018
