Research Resources in the University of Glasgow for Adam Smith and the Scottish Enlightenment

This is a guide to the archives, manuscripts and printed books held by the University of Glasgow relating to major figures of the Scottish Enlightenment.

It is presented as a handlist that details the most significant resource material arranged by person. The resources for Adam Smith are listed first, followed by other Enlightenment figures in alphabetical order. Details of any connections with the University of Glasgow are also given at the beginning of each entry.

The aim of this list is to highlight the wealth of research material available at the University of Glasgow. However, it has been impossible to be totally comprehensive and the list is necessarily selective. Our holdings may be explored further from the Archives and Special Collections websites:

Archives Services:  http://www.gla.ac.uk/services/archives/

Special Collections:  http://special.lib.gla.ac.uk/index.html

Please refer to Special Collections manuscripts catalogue (http://special.lib.gla.ac.uk/manuscripts/search/) and main library catalogue (http://eleanor.lib.gla.ac.uk/search~S0/) for further details and comprehensive holdings.

Nearly 100 items of relevance from our collections are described in a web exhibition: Scottish Thought & Letters in the Eighteenth Century: http://special.lib.gla.ac.uk/exhibns/scottish/index.html

and over 60 images of Smith documents in a web exhibition: Smith in Glasgow http://www.gla.ac.uk/services/archives/exhibitions/smith

NB. for the printed books, only pre-1850 printed editions are listed where the figure is the author (ie not those books where figure is the subject). For full bibliographical details on all printed items, please see the entries on our main library catalogue.

Lecture notes/essays

Adam Smith: Notes of his Lectures on jurisprudence: MS Gen 94
The first lecture is dated Decr. 24, 1762, and the last is dated April 12, 1763. These are a variant version of Smith's Lectures on jurisprudence. They are differently arranged and often more fully illustrated and explained than those edited by Edwin Cannan. Typescript copy in six folders at MS Gen 1063

Notes of Dr. Smith's rhetorick lectures: MS Gen 95
In the first volume are 14 lectures by Adam Smith, delivered between 19 November and 24 December 1762, numbered from 2 to 14; two lectures numbered 4 occur on ff. 37 and 49. The second volume contains 15 lectures delivered between 26 December 1762 and 18 February 1763. These are an almost complete set of a student's notes on part of Smith's course on Moral Philosophy at Glasgow University given in his last unbroken academic session as Professor there. They were an elaboration of the public discourses on Rhetoric and Belles Lettres which he had given in Edinburgh during the years 1748-1751.

Juris Prudence or Notes from the Lectures on Justice, Police, Revenue, and Arms delivered in the University of Glasgow by Adam Smith: MS Gen 109
Manuscript fair copy of notes taken by an unidentified student in 1763 [1896 published version at MS Gen 109A]

Simson Collection

Some 850 printed books, mainly early mathematical and astronomical texts, comprising Simson's personal library. This library, including some of his own works, was bequeathed to the University on his death in 1768. A number of manuscript items relating to Simson, including notebooks and letters, were acquired at various times subsequently. Only works by Simson are listed below. See collection description (with links to itemised lists of all holdings) for further details: http://special.lib.gla.ac.uk/collection/simson.html

Manuscripts

Two letters from Robert Simson to Dr [James] Jurin: MS Gen 1096
On mathematics, including inverse tangent series and their use in calculating pi; these are good copies (probably made 1750s) with annotations by Simson, of the originals, written 1723-1724

Letter from Simson to Colin Maclaurin, dated Glasgow, 7 May 1729: MS Gen 1378/3
Subscriptions for Newton's Optics, including one from Dr Johnston for Glasgow University Library; asks about progress of his 'piece of the collision of bodies' and of his Algebra

Letter from Simson to Colin Maclaurin, Glasgow, 27 July 1736: MS Gen 1378/4
On mathematical writings, with mention of Maclaurin's notes in a book belonging to Simson dated 1720 [Maclaurin's Geometria organica, Ea7-c.9? - which has notes in pencil]
Printed Latin translation (published 1589) of mathematical work by Pappus Alexandrinus with annotations by Simson (created between 1739 and 1768): MS Gen 1118
NB. there is a later copy of the notes at MS Gen 1232

Collection of papers including original letters on mathematical subjects (between Robert Simson, Matthew Stewart and James Stirling), 1741-1755: MS Gen 146
Discussion includes the quadrature of the hyperbola and on porisms; with related secondary material

Letters and papers on mathematical subjects: MS Gen 196
A volume containing notes with letters and other papers pasted or tipped in throughout. Includes letters to and from George Lewis Scott, Matthew Stewart and James Moor, and two letters from Robert Simson to Professor William Trail. At the front of the volume is a 'List of Dr Simsons letters & of letters from his correspondents to be [presented?]'. Created between 1722 and 1764.

Adversaria on mathematical subjects. [Glasgow], 1716-1767: MS Gen 256-271
Autograph manuscript by Robert Simson; 16 bound notebooks with many figures and diagrams

Letters to Professor Robert Simson and Other Documents: MS Murray 660
Contains an engraved portrait print of Robert Simson followed by 24 items, tipped in. These mainly comprise letters, the majority from William Rouet (1758-1764), written in various European cities, also two from G L Scott. The items include a note of Simson's clothing, March 1769 (item 20) and notes on reading history, particularly history of France (item 24). At the end of the volume is a copy of an extract from Glasgow Testaments Commissariat, February 1769, setting out Simson's will.

Papers relating to the families of Muirhead and Watt: MS Gen 1354
The majority of the material is connected with the research, writing and publishing of a biography of James Watt by James Patrick Muirhead (1813-1898). This includes a sequence of 904 letters exchanged between James Watt Jr (1769-1848) and Muirhead between 1834 and 1847. As David Miller writes, these are concerned mainly with Watt's aim to document his father's life and achievements. "Other letters ... document exchanges with informants, publishers, printers, booksellers, engravers, reviewers, editors, and also with recipients of presentation copies. Apart from their interest for those concerned with the Watt legacy, these papers also make a fascinating case study of early Victorian publishing and literary life."
Documents are too numerous to list individually here, but see the collection level record on the manuscripts catalogue for further details:
