

Katherine Heavey Memorial Lecture

Grotesque Thomas Nashe: Reading Challenging Texts

Professor Jennifer Richards (Newcastle University)

5.00pm, 21st September 2022 (reception to follow)

Senate Room, Gillmorehill Campus

University of Glasgow

Attendance is free but please register here: <https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/katherine-heavey-memorial-lecture-tickets-400646222637>

Our much-loved colleague Dr. Katherine Heavey died in 2022. Katherine was an expert on early modern classical adaptation and in addition to numerous articles and chapters, she was well-known for her monograph The Early Modern Medea: Medea in English Literature, 1558-1688 (Palgrave Macmillan, 2015). She was also a fine teacher who made a difference to the lives of many students. English Literature at Glasgow is proud to support this inaugural public lecture in Katherine's memory.